Big shot: One of the stark images used in the police campaign

‘Many believe that if they are caught with a firearm, they will not be prosecuted because it is not their gun. They are wrong.’

GIRLS UNDER FIRE

Warning for at those who stash boyfriends' guns

By Lucy Purdy

GIRLS in Haringey are being warned of the grave consequences of stashing guns for their boyfriends in a hard-hitting police campaign unveiled this week.

Under the strapline “hide his gun and you help commit the crime” the drive features radio, cinema and billboard adverts aimed at teenagers of Afro-Caribbean heritage. Haringey is one of six boroughs targeted in a bid to halt a worrying increase in girls caught hiding deadly weapons for boys and men.

Detective chief superintendent Helen Ball, head of Trident which investigates gun crime in London's black community, said: “Those who store and carry guns for others are partly responsible for the crimes committed with those weapons.”

“The consequences for them, their families and friends are not worth thinking about. In the past few months we've seen an increase in the arrests and convictions of young women for the possession of firearms. “Many believe that if they are caught with a firearm they will not be prosecuted because it is not their gun. They are wrong.”

“If found guilty they will face a prison sentence, regardless of their sex.”

Tiffany Campbell, of Hornsey, was 19 when she was jailed for 12 months for stashing a gun in her flat. When police searched the property this February, they found a Smith and Wesson .38 revolver, wrapped in a carrier bag, and five cases of ammunition shoved in a drawer. Campbell told police she was given the gun by a man she knew only by his first name after meeting him a couple of times outside a Stratford nightclub.

She is one of 12 young women in London charged with possessing a gun since January alone, compared with 13 in 2008 and just two in 2007.

Lee Carryl, co-ordinator of the Value Your Life anti-gun and knife campaign and head of citizenship at Gladesmore Community School in Tottenham, said: “This strategy has been used since day dot.”

“Often in nightclubs, there aren't enough female police officers to search the girls so they're given knives, guns and drugs in the same way that younger kids will be used as drugs mules – the statistics don't point to them.

“You might give something to a girl you're seeing on a casual basis or someone you hang around with, and the girl is willing. In some instances there is duress but in the majority it's based on a relationship.”

Alongside Brent, Hackney, Lambeth, Lewisham and Southwark, posters will be put up at bus stops and in women's toilets in clubs and bars in Haringey featuring an image of a male and female holding a gun. Adverts will also be broadcast on Kiss and Choice FM, and played on the music sharing website Spotify.com.

Teams of young black women will distribute 72,000 flyers to girls in the six boroughs and also visit nail and hair salons, takeaways and newsagents to speak to youngsters deemed likely to get involved. Visit www.droptheweapons.org to find out more.

Council tax frozen for next year

SQUEEZED Haringey residents will not face an increase in their council tax bill next year.

Haringey Council, along with all Labour-run London authorities, has declared a rate freeze for 2010/11. This means people living in an average band D property will continue to pay £1,494 a year.

Council leader Claire Kober said the decision was made to help people cope in the tough economic climate. “Our residents are struggling with the cost of living and this decision will be a timely boost,” she said.

“While freezing tax, we will continue to improve services by moving resources from the back office to the front line.”

Through the move was welcomed by Liberal Democrat leader Robert Gorrie, he questioned the timing of the decision. He said: “We're delighted Labour has finally responded to our campaign. That said, Haringey residents still have to pay one of the highest rates in London. Under Labour, council tax in Haringey has risen by a staggering 60 per cent in the past nine years.”

Council tax levels are traditionally set in February before residents receive their bills in April. Also this week, the council announced it will clamp down on those who shirk council tax payments, pressing for bankruptcy declarations and even the prosecution of persistent offenders. The council's benefits and local taxation team has drawn up a list of 2,590 people who have deliberately evaded paying their dues.

Abusive rapist husband jailed for his six-year reign of terror

PICTURE POSED BY MODEL

By Lucy Purdy

A MAN who repeatedly raped, abused and degraded his wife during their marriage has been jailed for nine years.

The 48-year-old spat at, punched, head-butted, strangled and raped his wife during the six years they were married, including violently raping her on the couple's wedding anniversary.

The woman from Haringey, who cannot be named for legal reasons was in her mid-twenties when she married the man in 2000. She was subjected to a constant tirade of physical and verbal abuse, including being told she was a lesbian and a paedophile.

Every aspect of the woman's life was controlled and she was isolated from her family and friends. Despite the trauma of what happened, she bravely gave evidence behind a screen during the trial at the Old Bailey, which came to a conclusion last week.

The woman said she had been through "six years of hell".

"He has damaged me for life and took away my dignity when he raped me over and over again," she said.

"The experience of giving evidence has been draining emotionally, physically and mentally and there were lots of occasions when I didn't want to continue but I had support to pick me up again. I knew I had to see this to the end, to be liberated from this evil man. I cannot describe the emotions I am feeling because there are so many. I know I'm free and can breathe again."

The man was found guilty of three counts of rape and two counts of actual bodily harm. He will also be placed on the Sex Offenders' Register for life.

The court heard how the woman suffered throughout the marriage until fleeing to a refuge in 2006. Her husband accused her of having incestuous relationships with members of her own family and physically assaulted her, giving her black eyes and breaking her nose.

On their wedding anniversary, the man drunkenly ordered the woman upstairs, forcing her onto the bed and strangled her while raping her. The woman told the court how she was choking and gasping for air during the attack.

Two days later, she escaped to a Women's Aid refuge where she remained for 13 months. She told staff what had been happening but was too scared to tell police. Eventually, after attending the specialist Freedom Programme, run for men and women in abusive relationships, she went to the police to log a formal record of her terror.

Detective constable Jo Ravenhill, who helped bring the man to justice, said: "For six years the defendant emotionally, physically and sexually abused his wife and did his utmost to control every aspect of her life until she was merely a shell of the woman she had been when she first met him.

"Even after she fled her home, she lived in constant fear. She showed great courage in giving evidence against her tormentor in court. I hope that her direct involvement in the outcome of this case has empowered her and brings her closer to regaining control of her life."

Fostering a new occupation: Andy Moffat is setting up the Redemption Brewing Company

City worker is banking on brewing up his new career

Former banker to open a new brewery in Tottenham

By Lucy Purdy

A FORMER city banker who became disillusioned with his career in finance is set to open a new brewery in Tottenham.

Andy Moffat is just weeks away from producing his first pint as he puts the finishing touches to his new micro-brewery, based near Northumberland Park station in West Road. The Glasgow-born 36-year-old quit his job as a bond trader at Deutsche Bank last summer and has since been researching the ancient art of brewing while setting up the Redemption Brewing Company.

“Some of my friends think I’m a bit crazy because there are so many pubs closing.”

He hopes to help re-establish London as the brewery capital of the world and produce between 5,000 and 6,000 pints a week from next month – using water straight from the tap.

“Some of my friends think I’m a bit crazy because they see pubs closing down everywhere, but actually small breweries are doing very well at the moment.”

“I was getting dissatisfied with working for a big organisation, especially the way the banking system’s going, so decided to make something real and get involved in a whole different environment.”

Andy expects to be up and running by November and hopes to persuade publicans in Haringey and nearby to stock his locally produced ale.

He added: “I will be making a fairly pale, hoppy ale with a citrusy aroma and floral undertones.”

“There has been a real renaissance in cask-conditioned beer and people are producing more adventurous beers with a lot more flavour. The water here has a stable composition because of the reservoirs nearby so that’s good news for me.”

“I chose the name Redemption Brewing Company as it is about renewal, regeneration and starting again – it’s fitting to my situation!”

Betting shop raiders jailed

TWO brothers have been jailed after a string of armed robberies on bookies including two in Tottenham and Crouch End.

Bus driver Nelson Muzinga, 23, and his 18-year-old brother Ivo, of Moree Way, Upper Edmonton, admitted the spree. The pair were involved in at least nine robberies, netting more than £17,000 between February 13 and March 21.

Detectives traced the brothers after Ivo’s DNA and fingerprint were found on a polythene bag he left at an unsuccessful robbery. On Friday, they were handed six years each at Wood Green Crown Court.

Police are appealing for help on a third suspect described as white, of slim build, 5ft 10in and in his late teens to early twenties.

Anyone with information should call police on 020 8358 1751.

Three charged with murder

THREE people have been charged with murder following the death of a man sleeping rough in Tottenham.

Adam Sikora, 39, was found at John Masfield House, in Fladbury Road, on Sunday suffering from a stab wound. A post-mortem showed he died from internal bleeding.

Last Thursday, Malgorzata Siwak, 25, Boleslaw Ferenc, 32, and Jan Sywak, 50, appeared at Tottenham Magistrates’ Court and were remanded in custody. Paramedics and police were called at 12.15pm and have confirmed the trio lived at the address.

Child passenger avoids close-range shootingManhunt:
The scene of the murderRush-hour execution
at lights

A MAN was assassinated by a gunman on a motorbike as he waited at traffic lights in his car during rush hour in Tottenham on Friday.

A five-year-old boy and a woman were also in the car when the man opened fire at 23-year-old Oktay Erbasli at close range. The car was travelling west along The Roundway toward the junction with Great Cambridge Road at about 4pm.

After being shot, Mr Erbasli got out and staggered before collapsing in the street near to his silver Range Rover (pictured). He was pronounced dead in hospital an hour later.

Police would like to hear from anyone who saw the gunman dressed in dark clothing and a black helmet, riding a black Honda Blackbird or Suzuki GSXR motorbike. A second motorcyclist wearing a blue top was also seen nearby riding a blue, grey and white motorbike. Both bikes sped off west along The Roundway towards Lordship Lane in Tottenham.

Officers are also keen to speak to the occupants of a silver Vauxhall Astra and a blue Toyota seen near the Range Rover at the time of the shooting. Both were travelling ahead of the Range Rover and sped off along Great Cambridge Road towards the A406.

The woman, described as a female friend of Mr Erbasli, and the boy were unharmed.

DCI Andy Redwood, who is investigating the shooting, said: "This was a busy rush-hour junction.

"We are appealing to the public who may have any knowledge of these vehicles to contact the incident room immediately."

A man arrested at the scene was later released with no further action. Anyone with information should call police on 020 7321 9251.

The top of his Game

Student wins post organising 2012 Olympics

By Lucy Purdy

A TEENAGER from Tottenham has swapped his school-books for a swanky desk in Canary Wharf as he takes up a job this week helping organise the London 2012 Olympics.

Adnaan Shaikh, 18, is one of just ten promising school-leavers who were selected to play a role in the world's biggest sporting event, working for the London Organising Committee of the Olympic Games.

The former Gladesmore Community School and Woodhouse College pupil is now working in the communications department at the Games' headquarters.

"I just thought it sounded like a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity that I couldn't let go," he said.

"It's definitely not your average job – I'll be able to try out so many different aspects of work. I watched the Beijing Games on TV but I'll be much more passionate about London because I'll have been involved myself."

After trying his hand within several different departments Adnaan will be placed in the one which best matches his skills. He has already visited the Olympic Park and met Olympian triple jumper Jonathan Edwards and London Mayor Boris Johnson.

Adnaan, of Antill Road, will work for the organisation until the Games are over.

"Most of my friends are going to university but the ones who have been applying for jobs are finding it really tough," he said.

"I'm so glad I went for the job and got it, I'm determined to make the most of this chance."

He added that he hoped the role may lead to his ideal job – working at the next FIFA World Cup.

Paul Deighton, chief executive of LOCOG, said: "What these young school-leavers will learn over the next three years will, without a doubt, help them in their future careers. However, we will also benefit from having these dynamic and talented young people working with us and helping us inspire the youth of the world."

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SPECSAVERS' HEARING AIDS AND OUR MAIN COMPETITORS'?

ACCORDING TO RESEARCH ANYTHING UP TO £2,600

At Specsavers, we know that most people who suffer from hearing loss do so in both ears. We also know that wearing one hearing aid when two are required could still leave you with problems, but some companies charge so much that buying two is prohibitively expensive.

We've changed all that, with two hearing aids for the price of one.

That means we offer outstanding value for money. Independent research shows that Hidden Hearing charges on average £3,869 and Amplifon on average £2,528 for two hearing aids, which would cost just £1,195 for comparable products at Specsavers.

You'll also benefit from professional advice from a Hearing Aid Audiologist, the latest digital technology, free fitting and aftercare, and 2 years' warranty.

FEATURE

Picking up the thread to inspire youngsters

Sewing group is fashioning one estate's future

By Lucy Purdy

MY biggest dream is to be a famous fashion designer. I have a passion for clothes and drawing and I'd love for my name to be on everyone's lips!"

Looking up from her pencil sketches of models wearing glamorous dresses, 13-year-old schoolgirl Rodja Bukre has a gleam in her eye as she explains why she has come along to a small room on the Broadwater Farm Estate to learn about fashion design, en route - she hopes - to the bright lights of New York, Paris and Milan.

"I love going out and buying the right things to put together," she added. "I'll use a belt from a top in my hair or something, and I love going through my mum's old clothes."

The enthusiasm and talent of youngsters such as Rodja who live on the estate in Tottenham is what organisers of the Outreach sewing project hope to tap into.

And French-born course tutor Cat Gimenez, pictured above, seems the perfect person to tease it out of them. The 46-year-old worked as a designer for renowned fashion houses including Chloé, Catherine Walker and Elizabeth Emmanuel as well as high-street chains such as Primark and George before coming to Tottenham seven years ago.

"There's so much talent on this estate," she enthused. "Over the summer we had nine girls in every single day to work on their designs - they are so hungry to learn these skills, it's amazing."

"We've had some boys in too who are fascinated by the sewing machines. One said it was like a Toyota, if you go too fast it gets ruined!"

"I try to give them an idea of the business element too and they get the chance to meet people they wouldn't ordinarily come into contact with, like older women and people from other schools. I think that in itself is important."

Using heaps of brilliantly coloured fabric swatches which were donated from companies which have gone out of business and buttons, trimmings, fashion magazines and sewing machines funded by a £2,000 Haringey Council Making The Difference grant, the project was established last summer.

The West Green and Bruce Grove neighbourhood management team was instrumental in securing the funding.

Young people are taught the entire process of fashion production, from sketching ideas and creating mood boards to cutting and sewing garments. A beautiful patchwork dress in a mix of traditional African fabrics, has been made as well as skirts, tops, headresses and even hoodies.

Dressing up:
Ivone Borges

A stunning white-satin prom dress is the product of weeks of hard work by 15-year-old Ivone Borges, who has been coming along to the project since July. "I wanted to start something new and heard about the scheme," she explained.

"I love clothes which have a classical cut and wanted to make a prom dress for school. I bought satin and sequins from a shop in Walthamstow and now it's nearly finished. It fits me perfectly - I'm happy with it. I love singing but if this goes well, I might go into fashion."

Dilber Kizil, a 13-year-old pupil at Park View Academy, also lives on the estate and counts stars Beyoncé and Missy Elliot among her fashion idols. She said: "At the moment, I'm drawing a blue winter jacket based on one I saw in Vogue. I also love drawing rooms because I'm interested in interior design - anything creative really. I'd love to be a celebrity stylist."

Cat is particularly keen to help young people classified as NEET - not in education, employment or training - to look toward training and possible careers. She also wants to unite different generations in the project, encouraging mothers, daughters and fathers and sons to come down and pick up a needle and thread together.

The steady flow of people wandering up to the studio's open door on the afternoon we visited would suggest her friendly nature and boundless enthusiasm is paying off. I think sewing is a bit of a dying art," she said. "When mums started going out to work, perhaps they didn't teach their daughters in the same, traditional way. But these skills are very important."

Call Cat on 07903 018672 to find out more about Outreach.

Gym running a 24-hour workout for cancer funds

Inspiration: Danielle Leslie with her mother Sylvie Henry who died in July

By Lucy Purdy

ENERGETIC gym-goers in Tottenham will take part in a 24-hour charity workout session to raise money to combat breast cancer.

Staff and members of Curves women-only gym in Somerset Road will host the event on October 17 to raise money for Mill Hill-based charity Future Dreams.

The charity was established by mother and daughter cancer sufferers Sylvie Henry and Danielle Leslie who collected more than £300,000 during a gala evening in the West End 2008.

Before this year's version of the event could take place, Sylvie lost her battle against lung cancer in July and Danielle has recently started a new round of chemotherapy after discovering in June that her breast cancer had returned.

Gym manager Rebecca Stoddard said they had decided to help after hearing their inspirational story. She said: "We knew we had to support them. We're passionate about doing all we can to help minimise the risk of breast cancer. By organising the Curves-a-thon we hope people will help by sponsoring us – we really appreciate every penny people can donate."

Despite usually operating a strictly women-only policy, the gym will also open their doors to men for the day and currently need more volunteers to take part.

They need 48 volunteers to do 30 minutes of exercise each during the day. The event has been timed to mark Breast Cancer Awareness month which runs throughout October.

"Our members are already coming forward to offer their support but we need non-members too," said Rebecca.

"It will be the 3am slot which will be hardest for us to fill!"

The gym is also offering women the chance to join for free in exchange for a donation to the charity and is currently giving each new member a free Liv-Aid, a device designed to aid correct breast examination.

Call Curves on 020 8808 9030 to get involved and visit www.futuredreams.org.uk to find out more about Future Dreams.

Court relocation

A NEW coroner's court covering Haringey has opened following the closure of the former court in Myddelton Road, Hornsey.

A grade II-listed building in Wood Street, High Barnet, has been refurbished at a cost of £275,000. It will cover Barnet, Haringey, Enfield, Harrow and Brent under the coroner for north London, Andrew Walker.

Councillor Nilgun Canver, cabinet member for community safety, said the court was used for more than 40 years but this move freed up land for redevelopment.

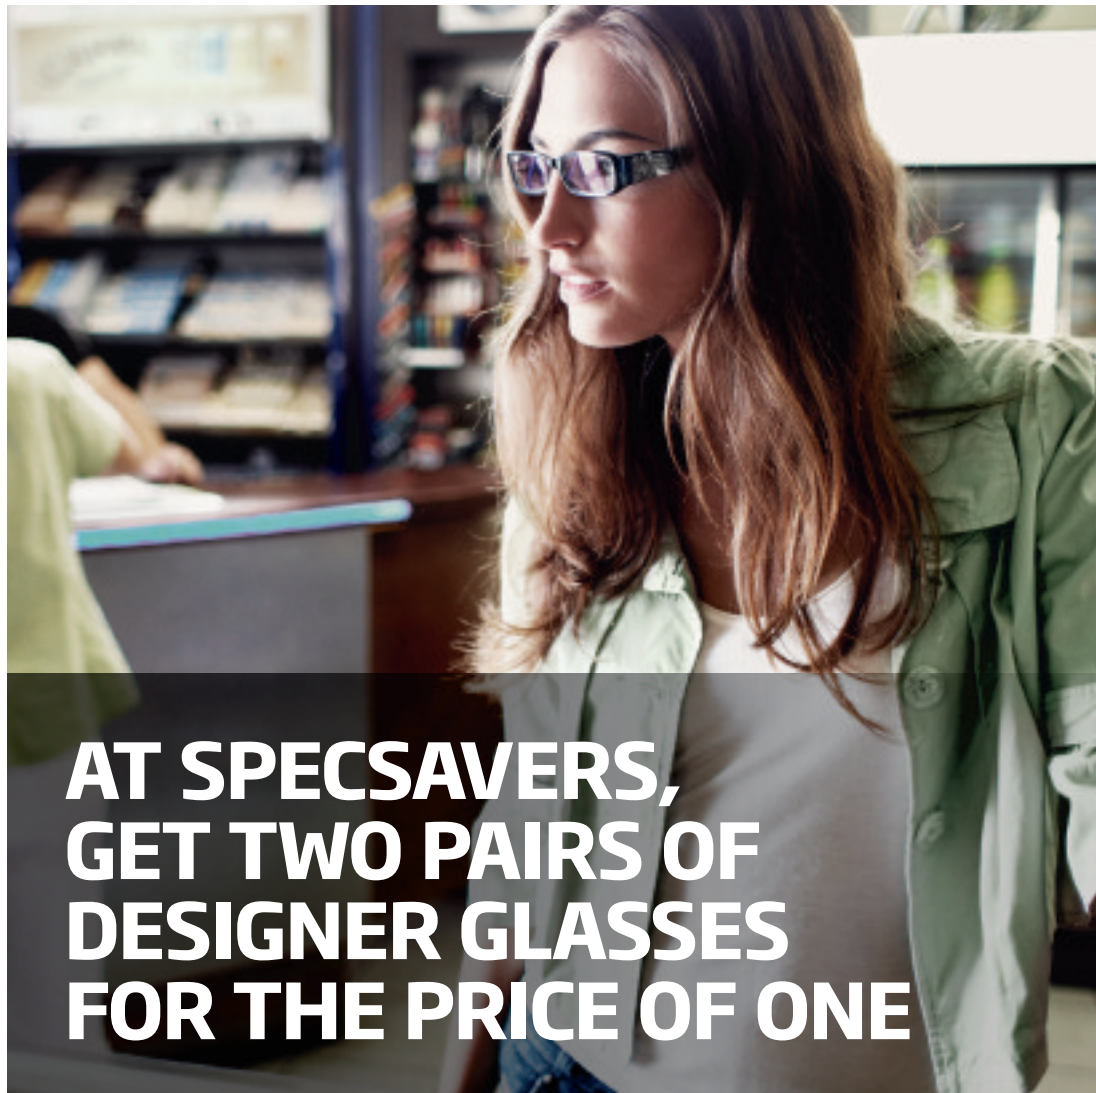

PC is remembered

A WREATH was laid yesterday on the anniversary of the murder of the police officer who was killed during the Broadwater Farm Riots in 1985.

A ceremony took place at the Muswell Hill memorial of father-of-three Keith Blakelock, who died on October 6, 24 years ago.

A police spokesman said: "He is fondly remembered by the community he served and the officers he served with as a dedicated officer who built excellent relationships with the community."

"In a time when the police are building ever-stronger links with the community and working together to combat violence and crime, it is hoped events such as that will never be seen again."

Corpsing comedy

Zombieland (18)

Director: Ruben Fleischer
Starring: Woody Harrelson, Jesse Eisenberg, Emma Stone, Abigail Breslin, Bill Murray

ZOMBIELAND is a Tarantino-esque romp into horror parody.

It takes place in an apocalyptic alt-world referred to as, Zombieland. The plot centres around social misfit Columbus (Jesse Eisenberg) who stumbles across the macho Tallahassee (Woody Harrelson) with a sadistic thirst for killing zombies.

An alliance forms when the pair meet Witchita (Emma Stone) and Little Rock (Abigail Breslin, of Little Miss Sunshine). But trust issues create amusing boys vs girls scenes where the girls frequently come out on top.

Much of the humour is based around Columbus' obsessively geeky set of "rules to surviving Zombieland" such as rule one "cardio", since the fattest always get eaten first, rule three "beware bathrooms", rule 17 "don't be a hero" and rule four "fasten your seatbelt". Okay it's much funnier within the context of the film.

On the surface there's a lot that's progressive about Zombieland, especially its cinematography. Plot-wise it's so simple you could be half asleep and still follow it.

In fact it's the plot that is the one thing that lets the film down. There's a bizarre scene in which the unlikely quartet enter a stately home that turns out to be Bill Murray's house. Even more bizarrely Bill Murray makes a cameo appearance dressed as a zombie - a sequence which clearly prioritises humour over coherency.

The characters can also be one-dimensional at times and even though Columbus is the protagonist it is Woody's character Tallahassee that shines brightest with consistently amusing one-liners.

Taken at face value Zombieland is hilarious and easy to watch, but it doesn't have the intelligent edge and encyclopedic background knowledge that similar zombie parody films such as Shaun Of The Dead show.

While this might not be the deepest film to be released this year, you should just enjoy it for what it is - a funny flick in which you can leave your brain at the box office.

by Will Stone

Now Showing...

The Invention of Lying (12A)

To tell the truth this ain't the funniest film you'll see all year and Ricky Gervais seems to have lost his mojo somewhere in Hollywood. In a parallel universe where everyone tells the truth he plays its first ever liar. Good premise; lame execution.

Jamie Foxx plays Nathaniel Ayers, a brilliant, homeless musician made famous through a series of columns by LA journalist Steve Lopez (Robert Downey Jr). Not as sentimental as it could have been, it's still a by-numbers buddy movie enlivened by Joe Wright's invigorating style.

Away We Go (15)

Sam Mendes' departure from his usual fare of American dream gone awry. A tender and funny story of a couple who embark on a journey across North America in a search for a place to bring up their soon-to-be-born baby.

Fish Tank (15)

Explosive debut from teenager Katie Jarvis as rebellious teen Mia seeking release or just empathy on an Essex council estate in this bittersweet snapshot of working class life.

Yellow fellow:
Hard to beat 'll be the word on this submarine
at the British Invention Show

Palace submerged in a world of ideas

THE morning ritual might be vastly improved thanks to The 9th British Invention Show.

Aphrodisiac bed sheets; a liquid croissant in which you can dip solid coffee; and a door which tells you what you've left behind when you cross its threshold are just some of the weird and wonderful ideas at this year's flagship event in Alexandra Palace.

"It's bigger and better than ever," said organiser Kane Kramer. "We are defying the credit crunch by being two-and-a-half times bigger than last year for an incredibly diverse array of unique ideas and lots of professional advice for the would-be innovator."

Spain's most famous inventor, Pep Torres, will also be on hand for people to buy an idea – just £1 for charity – and explain a little more about his surreal ideas such as the croissant and bed sheets.

"I ordered five sets of sheets but my wife sent them back!" said Kane, laughing. "There's also the carrots which taste like pizza, to help children eat vegetables, and a scratch-off postcard which works like a scratch card in that you rub off a metallic surface to read what someone has written underneath."

But what Kane is looking forward to is the three-man submarine – so heavy it will probably be lowered into the West Hall, and so yellow there's no prizes for guessing what music will be played on its arrival!

"It costs one and a quarter million," said Kane. "Which might be out of some people's price range! But the cheapest is a 95p wall plug so there should be something for everyone."

● The show runs at Alexandra Palace from next Wednesday to Saturday. For ticket details call the box office on 01462 451 111 or go to www.britishinventionshow.com

Sargasso heads away from sea front into new waters

Restaurant News

Sargasso, 10 Station Road, Winchmore Hill. 020 8360 0990

SARGASSO Sea is dead... long live Sargasso!

Taking steps to ensure its survival in these harsh economic times, the acclaimed Winchmore Hill fish restaurant has knocked the "Sea" off its name and will now be featuring many more non-fish items and vegetarian dishes to encourage a wider range of diners.

"In the past 16 months we've noticed the difference and it's been hard work," said joint owner Dawn Phantis. "It's great to be people's special place and we pride ourselves on our quality."

"But, at the same time, people are being much more price-conscious and we don't want to be shooting ourselves in the foot. There are many people living in this street who haven't been to see us because we are expensive – although we're still value for money its the raw price of fish which is expensive."

Style change: A new name and menu for the revamped restaurant

Giving it no little thought, Dawn and husband John have created a menu of roughly 50 per cent fish and 50 per cent non-fish, reduced prices by about a third and introduced a few subtle changes, such as removing tablecloths and staff uniforms to create a more relaxed atmosphere.

"We are very keen on having something for everyone and are excited by the changes," said Dawn.

● Sargasso is open from 6pm, Tuesdays to Saturdays. To see the new menu go to www.sargassorestaurant.co.uk

● We've teamed up with the restaurant to offer you the chance to be a Gannet for a night. We want you to send us your reviews of the new-look restaurant and the best one, in our humble opinion, will be printed in the paper, while the restaurant will refund the cost of your meal up to £200. Four runners-up will each receive a £50 voucher to use in the restaurant. Reviews should be between 300 and 350 words in length, include prices of dishes, and the decision of the Gannet Girls is final! Send your entries and meal receipts to: Sargasso Competition, The Haringey Advertiser, 4th Floor, Refuge House, 9-10 River Front, Enfield, EN1 3SZ.

We'll give you until November 4 to get your reviews in.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and (b) no way contrary to the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (c) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage. 7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication. 8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

9. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority. 10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order. 12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company. 14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 8% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1964. 15. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability. 16. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date. 17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent. 19. Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies. Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes. Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

Do you have what it takes to beat the recession?

Ingeus (formerly WorkDirections) supports unemployed people to find lasting work. In the current economic climate it can be difficult for recently unemployed people to move back into work. This is where our Employability Consultants come in.

We are looking for confident, highly organised, creative people who can give our clients the boost they need through one-to-one interventions and work-focused training.

Do you have experience in recruitment or a similarly people-focused, target-driven environment? Could you support a large caseload of clients by matching their skills to the needs of employers?

This is initially an 18-month fixed-term contract but, at the end of the period, there are likely to be further opportunities.

Location: London (various locations)

Salary: £26,000 - £31,500
 Plus excellent benefits

Closing date: 18 October 2009

To apply and to find out more about how your work will dramatically improve the lives of your clients, go to www.ingeus.co.uk/vacancies

HAPPY HARRY

By Lee Husson

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR failed to end their 13-year wait for a win in Bolton, but Harry Redknapp lauded his side's resilience after they came from behind twice to snatch a battling point in an action-packed game at the Reebok on Saturday.

Niko Kranjcar's first goal for the club saw Spurs undeservedly go in level at half-time after the home side had dominated and led through Ricardo Gardner.

The visitors were improved in the second-half, but Kevin Davies headed Bolton back into the lead in the 69th minute, only for Vedran Corluka to level again soon after – also his first Tottenham goal – to ensure the points were shared.

And Redknapp, who denied bizarre claims that he was set to quit the club last week, was satisfied with a point after watching his side fold in the same fixture last season.

"They started brightly, we started slowly, gave a goal away and it's difficult from there, but we got stronger as the game went on," he said.

"I said at half-time that when it's tight and we can't play through teams, maybe we'd have to go more direct at times.

"It's not an easy place to go to but we kept going and I felt we did OK."

Gardner capitalised on a spill by keeper Carlo Cudicini to sweep Bolton into the lead, and in truth they could have had a hatful more, with Tamir Cohen twice fluffing shots when free in the box, while Davies and Matthew Taylor both saw efforts smothered by Cudicini.

But Spurs entered the break level when Kranjcar rifled Peter Crouch's knock-down past keeper Jussi Jaaskelainen in their first attack of note.

The visitors carried more of a threat in the second half, but were powerless to prevent Davies heading Bolton back in front after a superb flowing move.

Crouch somehow missed a gilt-edged chance to level instantly when he shot at a grounded Jaaskelainen, but Corluka popped up to head home the resulting corner and steal a point.

Pointing the way: Redknapp was pleased with his side's character

An afternoon to forget for 'Boro

Haringey Borough 1 Hatfield Town 2

Molten Spartan Premier Division

TOM LOIZOU endured another miserable afternoon as he watched his depleted side slump to another league defeat in a dire game at Coles Park.

Not much has gone right on or off the field for Borough in recent weeks, and the manager, who had only 13 players available, was forced to play injured reserve goalkeeper Charlie Douse for the first quarter of an hour as number one Yannick Nlate was held up in traffic after a shooting closed the A10.

Borough had actually gone a goal ahead by the time Nlate arrived – George Sifonios launched a free-kick from half way into the wind and the ball sailed straight into the net.

Tansel Tezel wasted two good chances to extend the lead, and they were made to pay as Trevor Golder picked up the ball in midfield before shrugging off several half-hearted challenges and firing goalwards.

The shot looked straight-forward enough for Nlate, but it took a wicked bobble and squirmed under the keeper's dive before trickling over the line.

In a non-event of a second half, some dismal Borough defending allowed Lewis Field to pounce just after the hour mark and tap into an empty net, and the hosts' afternoon was summed up perfectly late on as Tezel cut in from the left and fired a rasping shot which beat the Hatfield keeper but crashed against the post.
